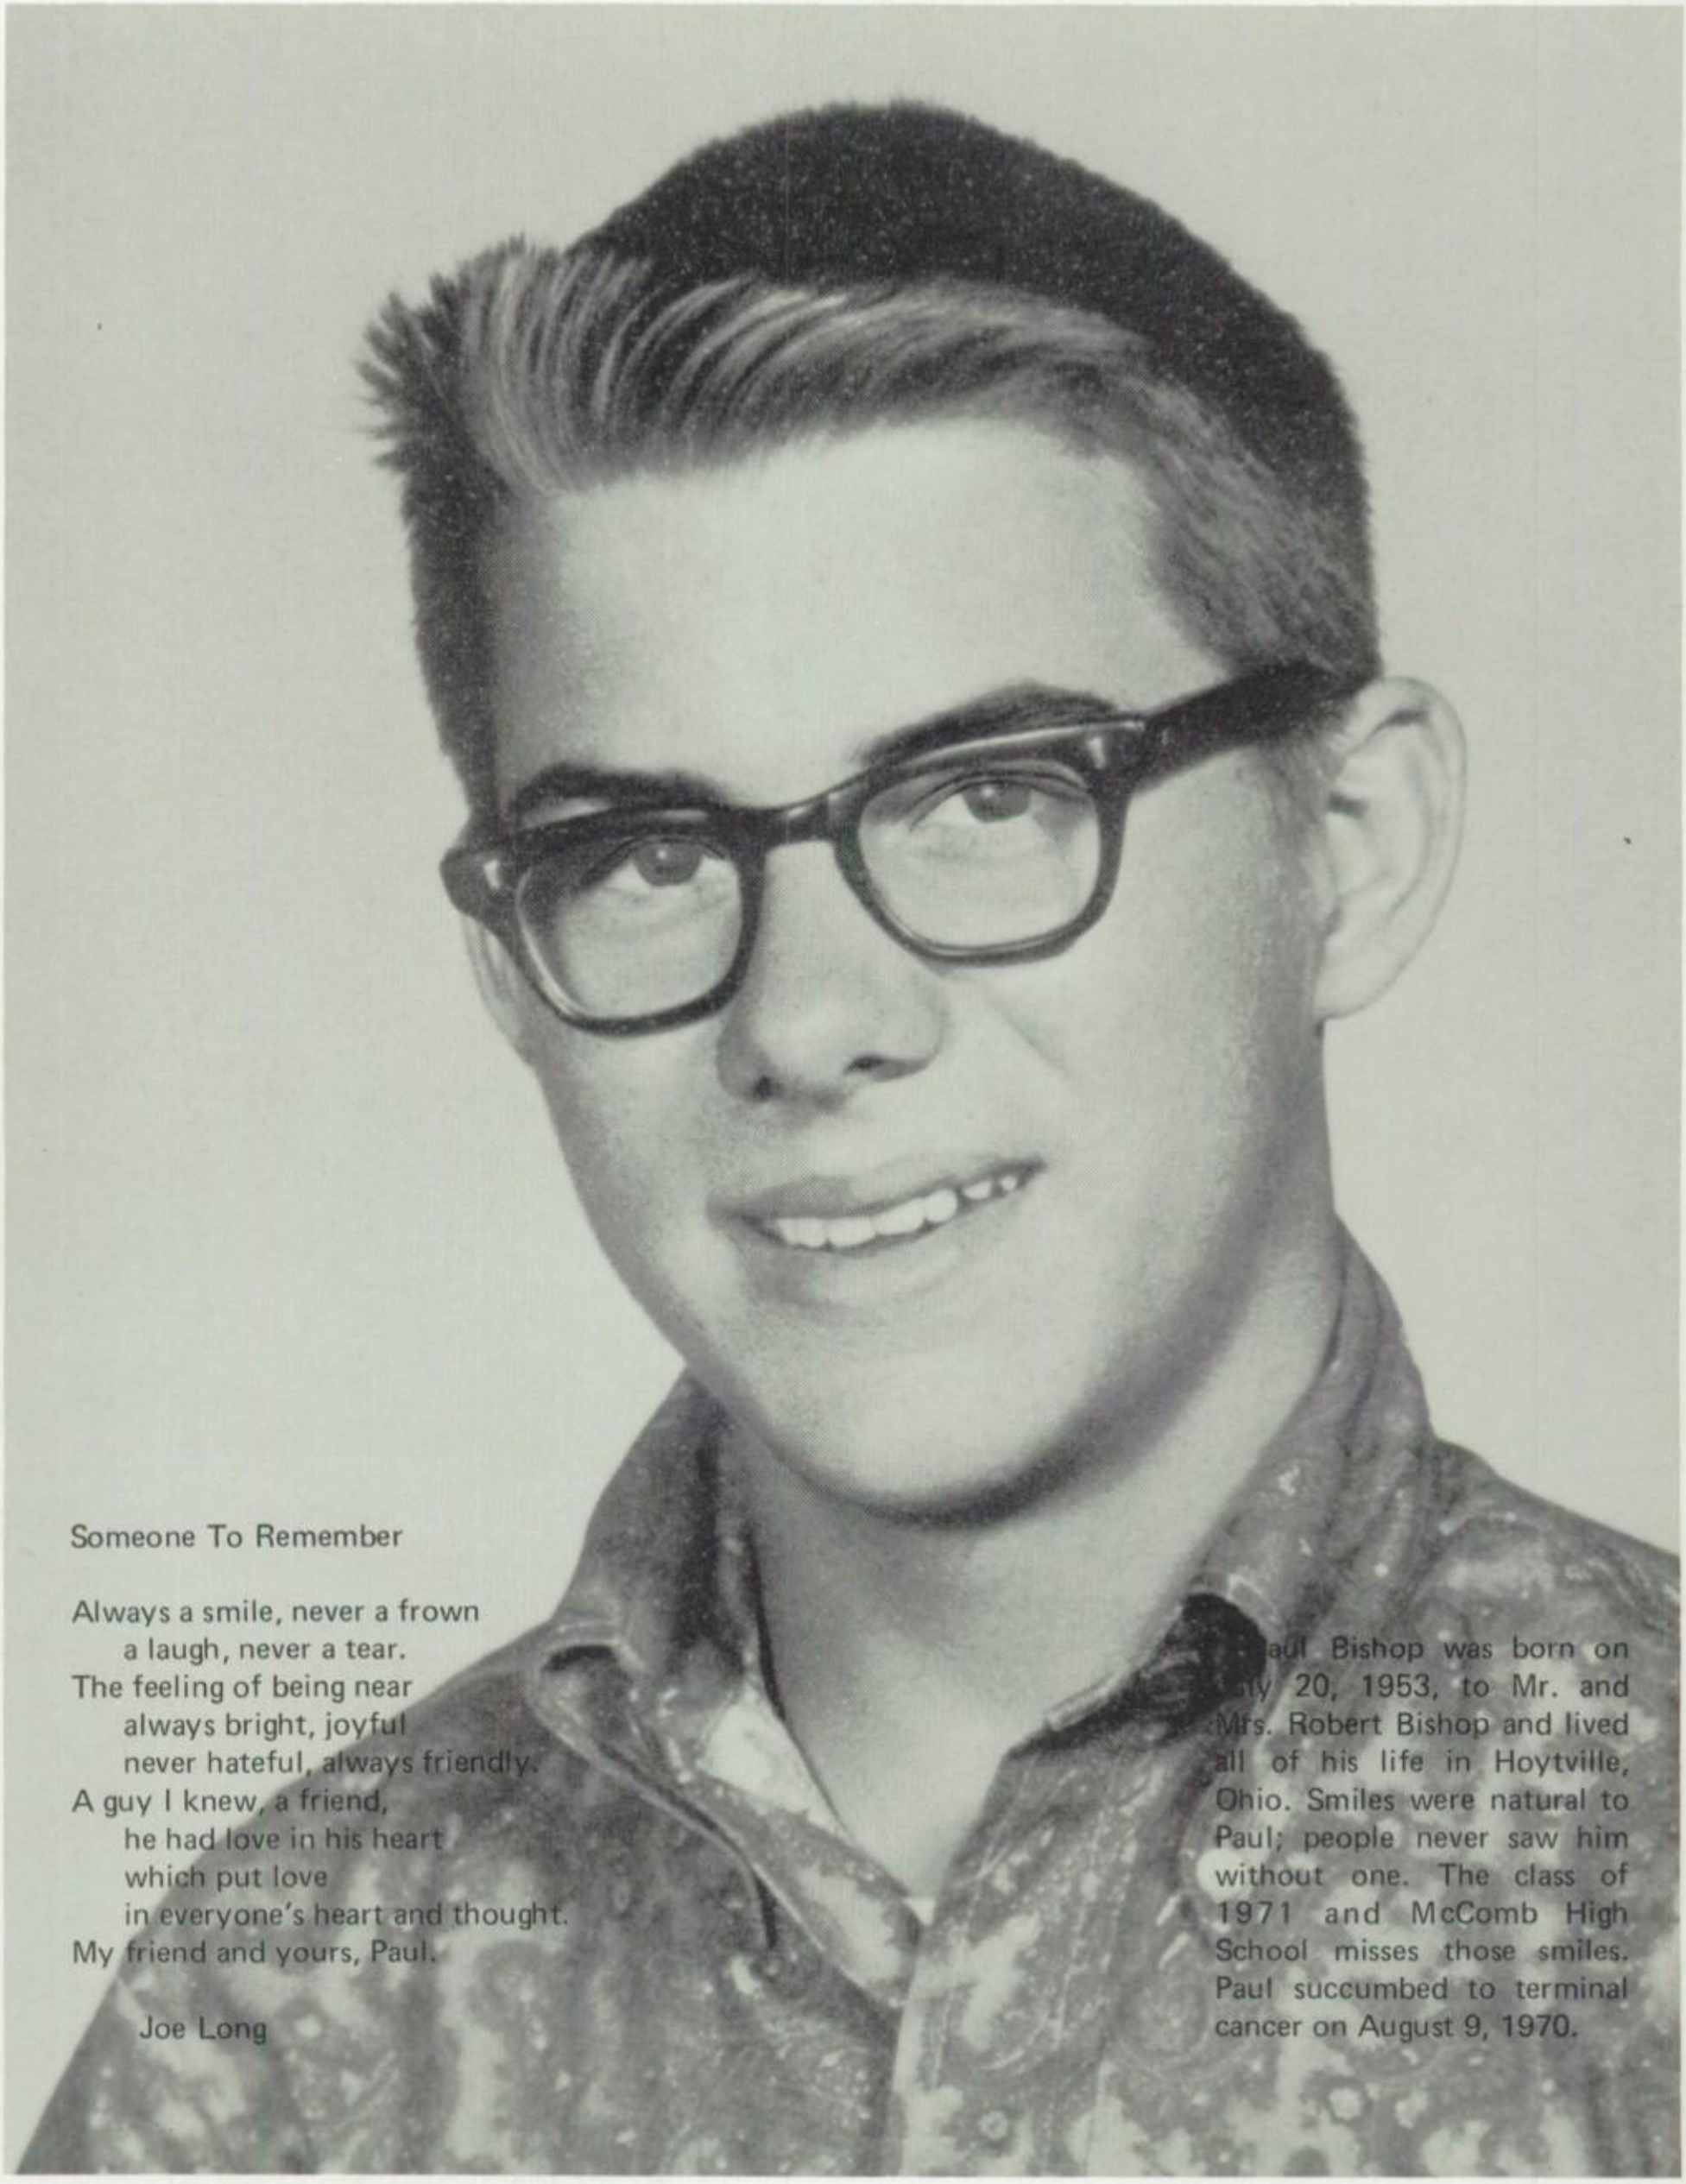
In Memoriam



Someone To Remember

Always a smile, never a frown
a laugh, never a tear.
The feeling of being near always bright, joyful
never hateful, always friendly.
A guy I knew, a friend,
he had love in his heart
which put love
in everyone's heart and thought.
My friend and yours, Paul.

Joe Long

aul Bishop was born on y 20, 1953, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bishop and lived
all of his life in Hoytville, Ohio. Smiles were natural to Paul; people never saw him without one. The class of 1971 and McComb High
School misses those smiles.
Paul succumbed to terminal
cancer on August 9, 1970.

The first day

I can't remember,

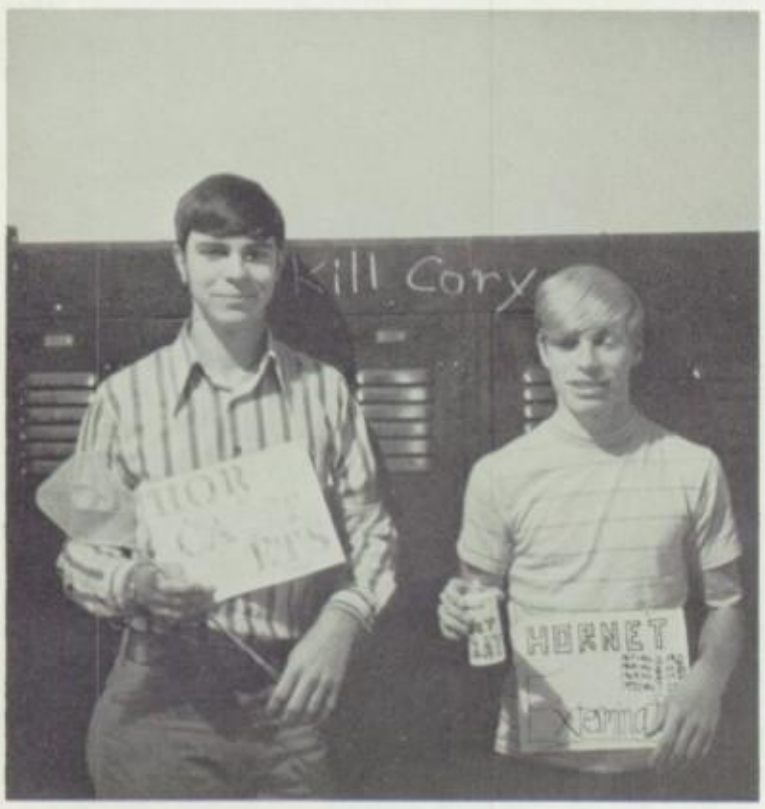
only that

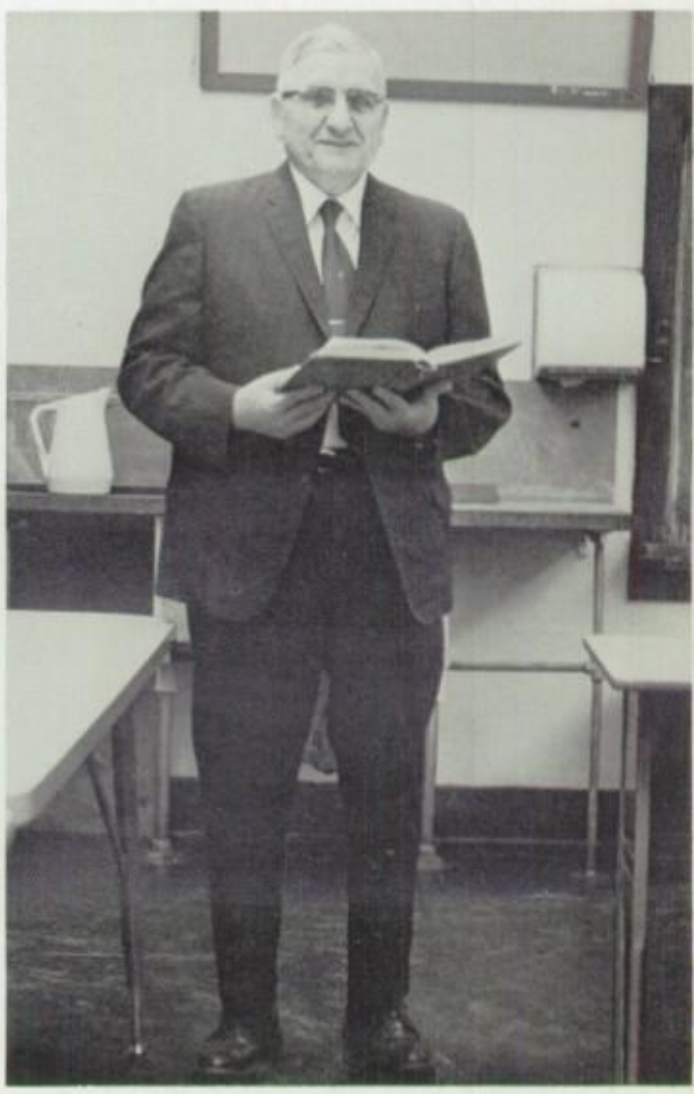
I opened

the doors

to the biggest

part of my life.



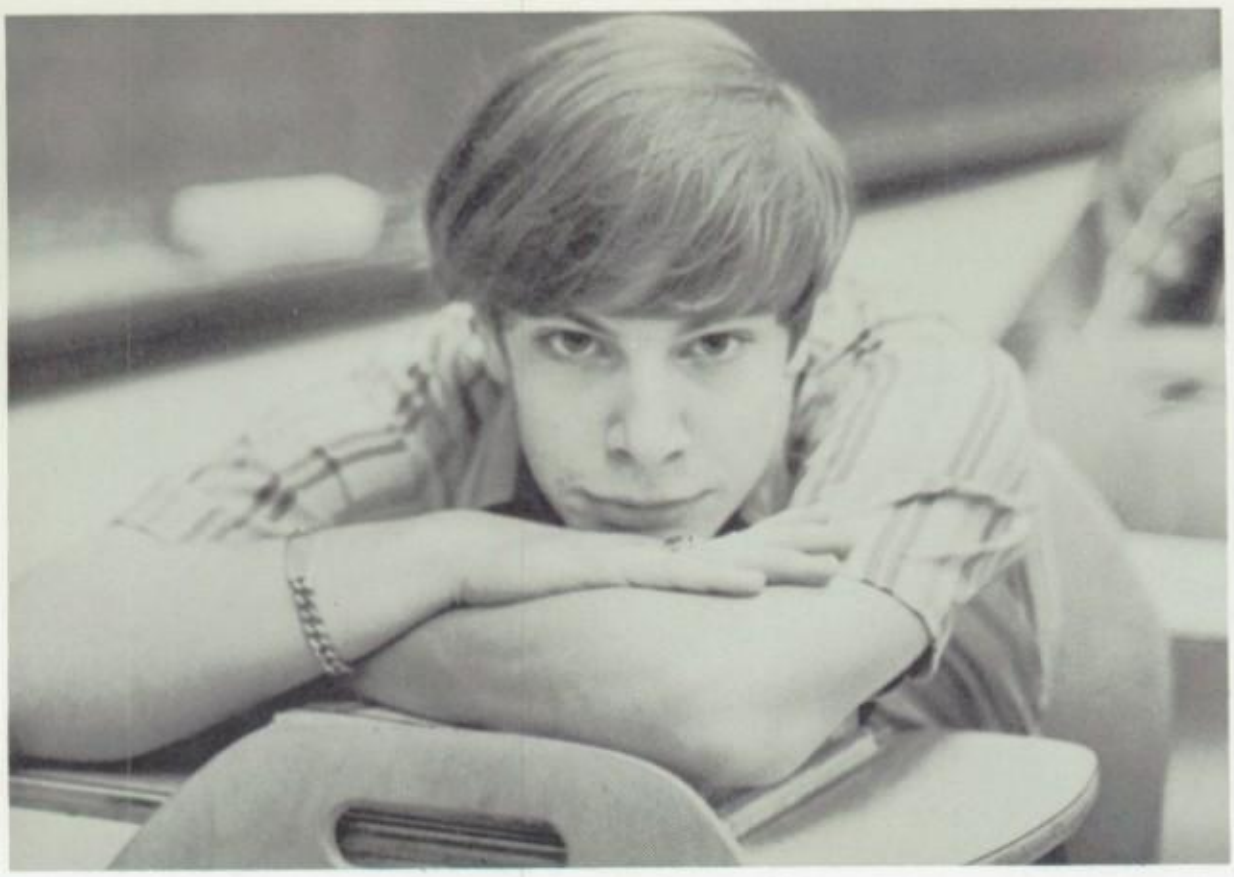


Learning the things

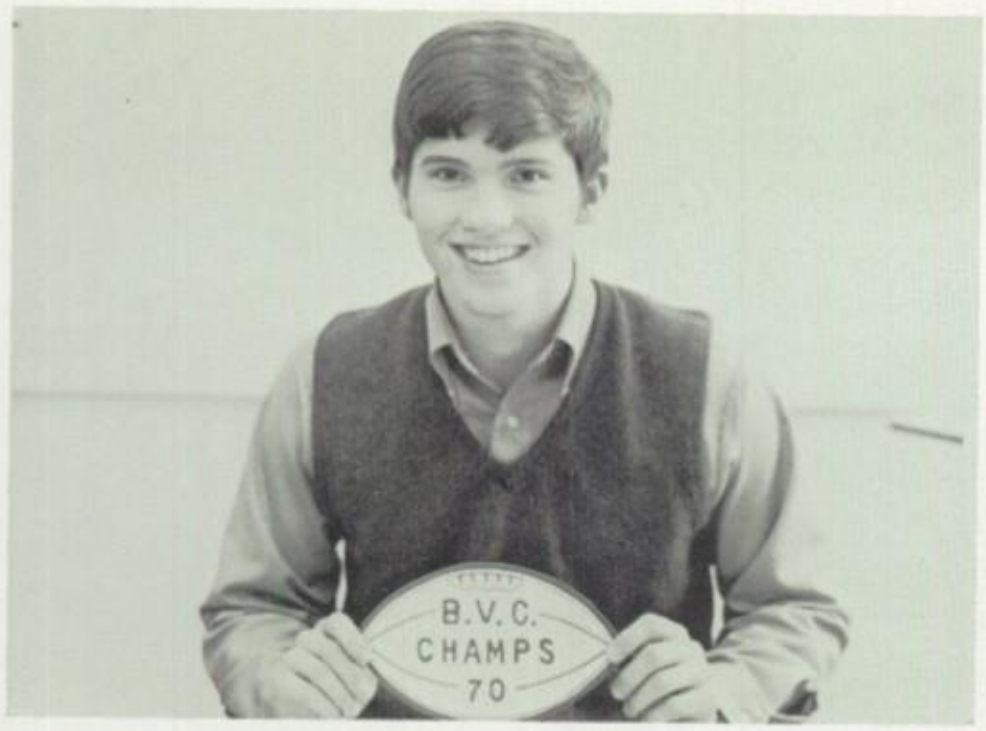
needed to know,

to grow taller

and stronger,



STUDENT DRIVER



to carry on

the world's problems

and to finish

what was left

for me to build

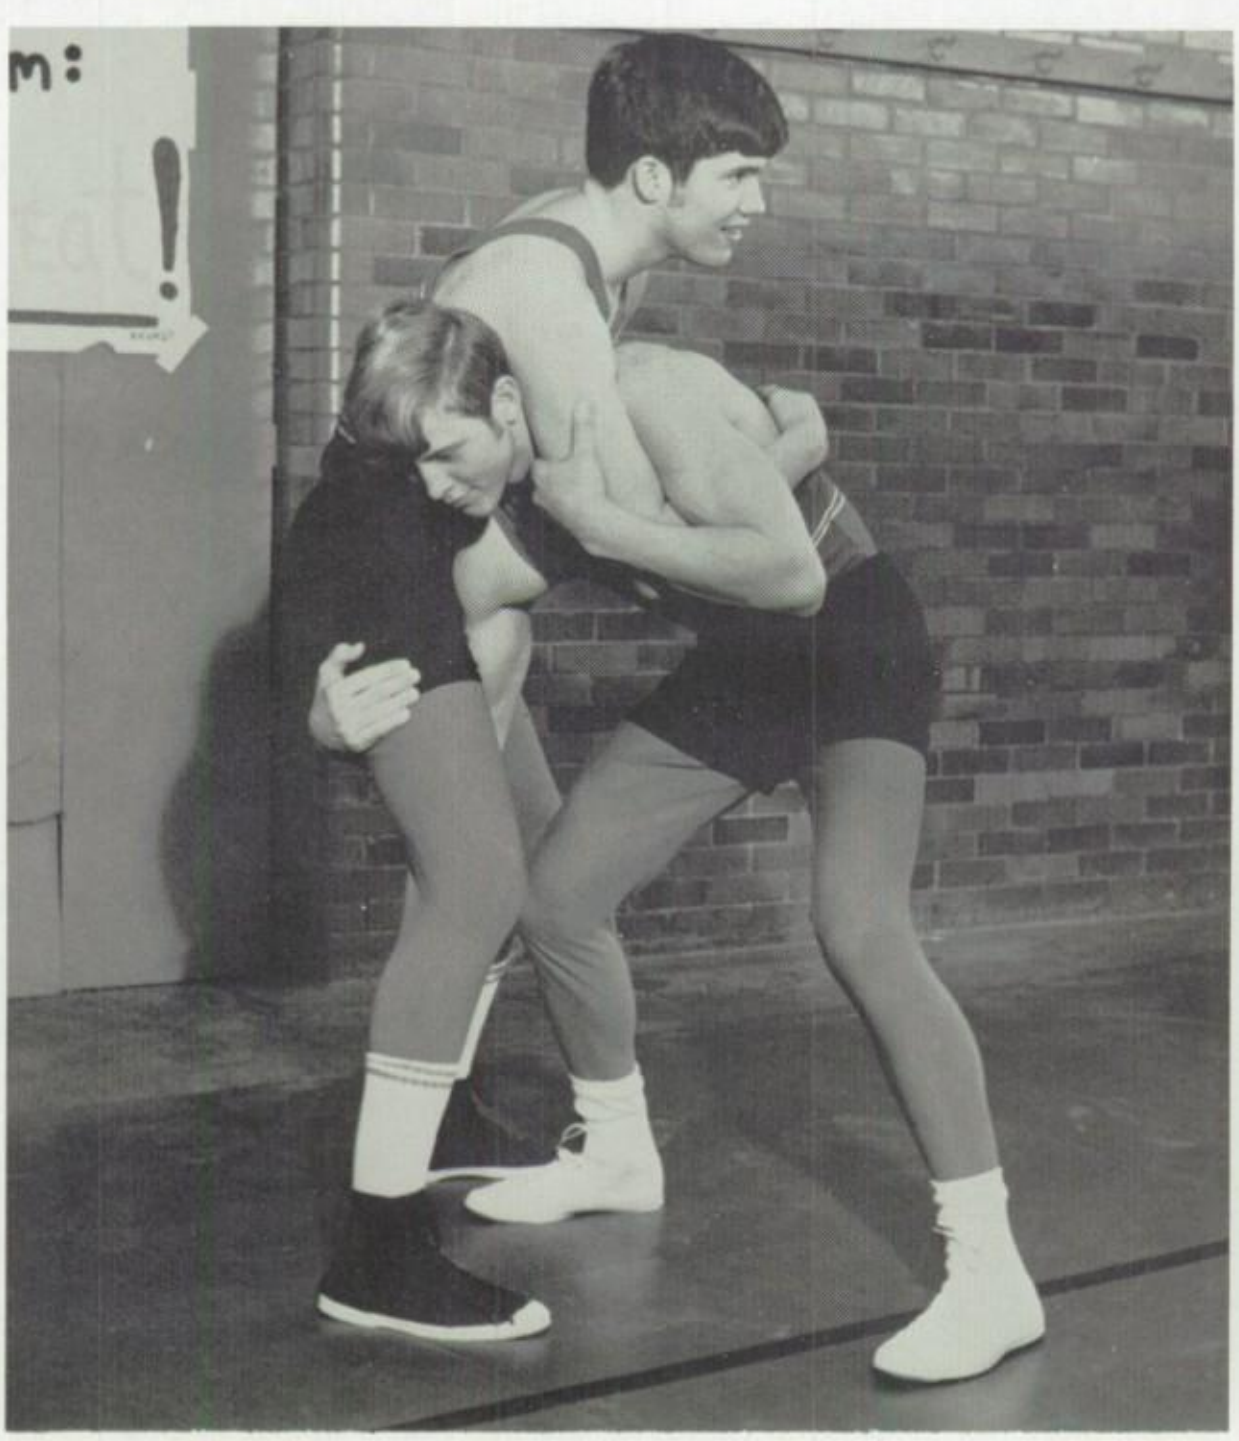
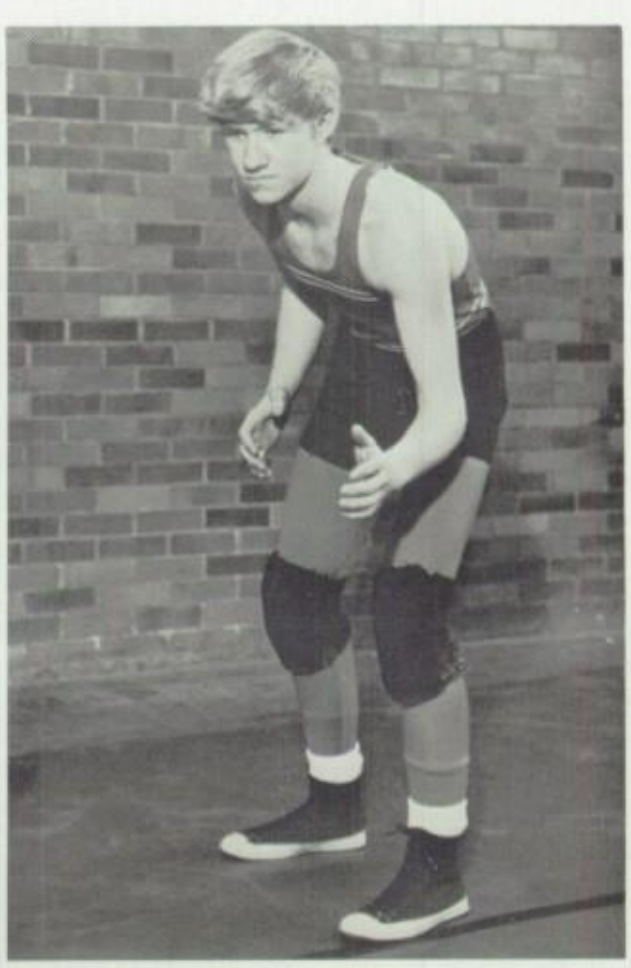
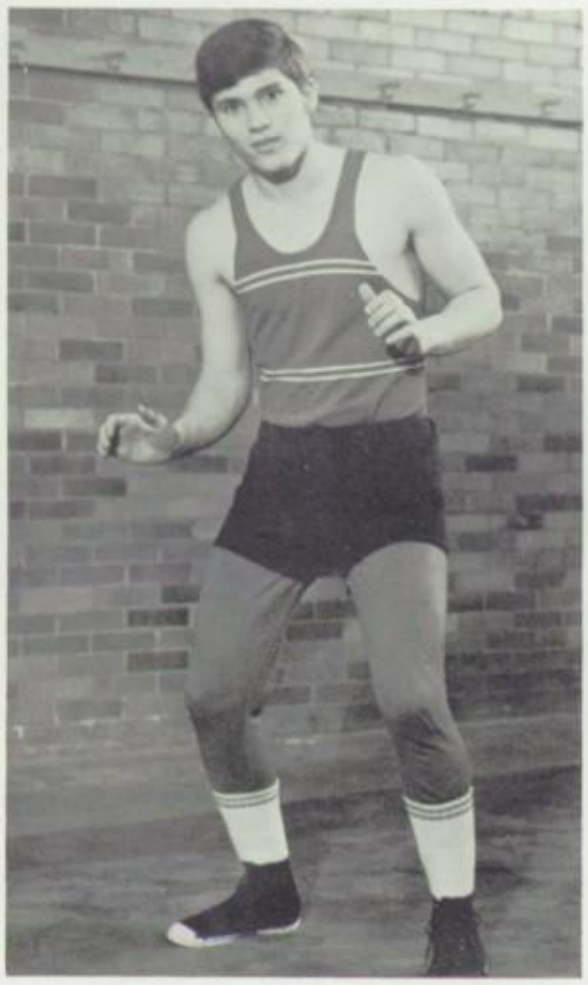
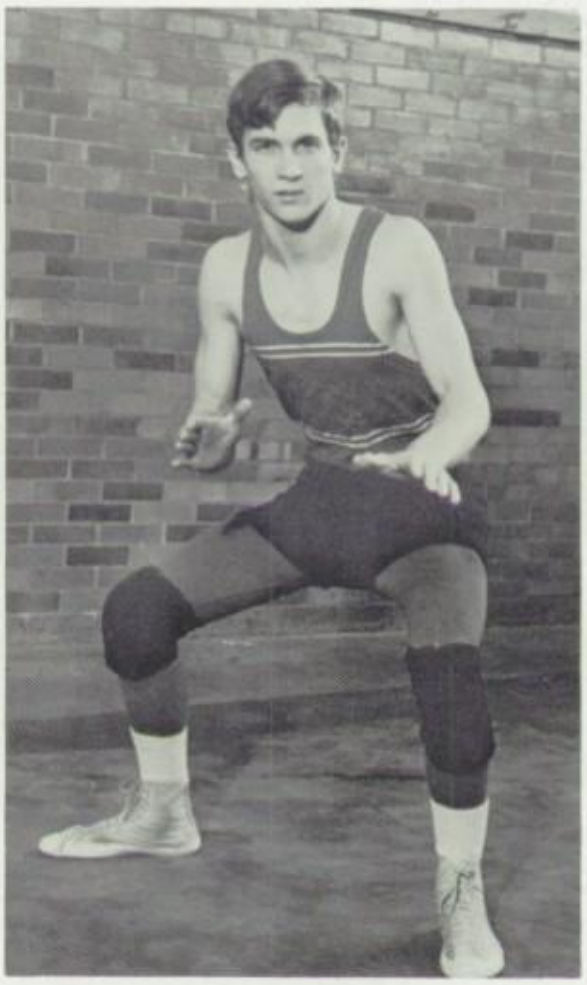
What's a Wrestler . . .

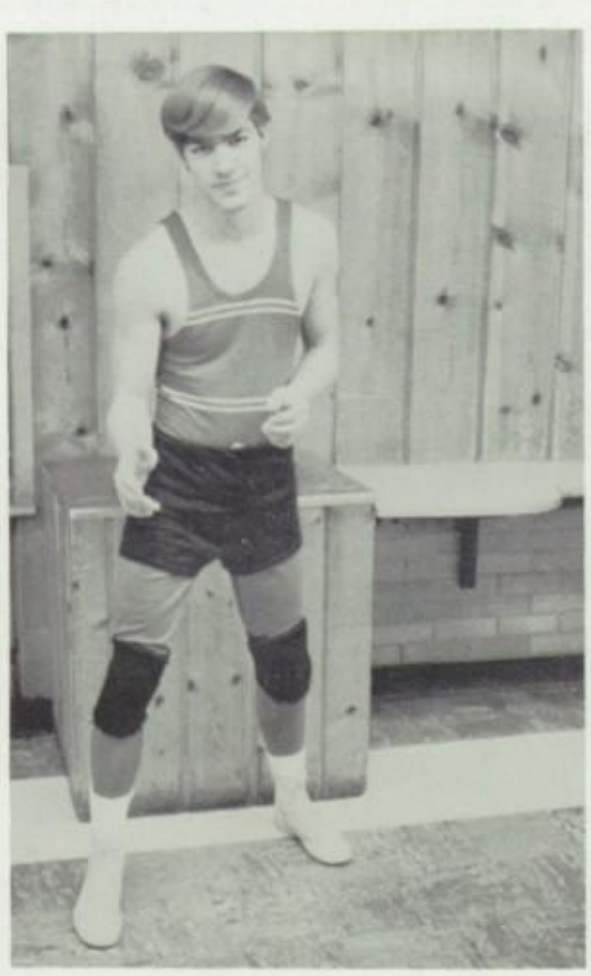


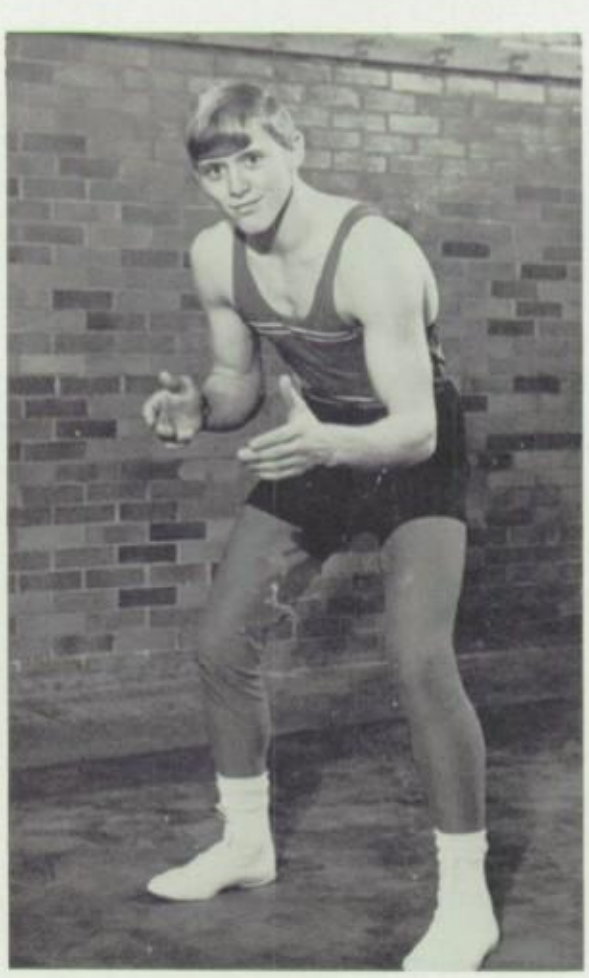


. . . A Man!!!









The McComb matmen did a fine job this year under the coaching of Mr. Jim McCumber. They brought the season to an end with a 5-5 record. The first tournament of the season was the holiday tournament at Mohawk. Even though the team placed last, there were four men who placed in their weight classes. They were: Den Rider - 3rd; Jeff Aukerman - 3rd; Chuck Insley - 1st; and Bill Shoop - 3rd.

In February they traveled to Cory-Rawson to compete with four other teams for the county title. McComb placed third in the tourney with C-R and Arcadia placing first and second, respectively. The placements of our men in that tourney were: Den Rider - 2nd; Jeff Aukerman - 2nd; Jim Van Atta - 3rd; Ed Shoop - 2nd; Bryan Harden - 3rd; Chuck Insley - 1st; Scott Salisbury - lst; Jeff Miller - lst; Bill Shoop - 2nd; Jeff Oyler - 4th; Dave Hickey - 2nd; and Den Glaser - 3rd.

The McComb "running" Panther team had an astounding 7-0 undefeated record. The team placed 6th in the BVC meet at Findlay with 21 1/2 points, and landed 6th place in the Findlay district meet with 30 3/5 points (6th out of 25 teams, mind you). To what did the team owe its success--its new coach, Mr. Tom Pitney.

Puttering Around

Golf was added to the list of spring sports at McComb High School in 1970. The nearness of the Shady Acres Golf Course made it easy for the members to practice. The first event of the year was a tournament which included 20 area high schools. When the tournament ended our golfers held 8th place; quite an achievement for a beginning club. The new group also played two matches in the spring of 1970. Our electric eightsome went on to defeat Arlington. But alas, they slipped to the putters of Leipsic. All in all this is a fine start for a brand new team.

The Council Took Action

This was a year of indecision for the McComb Student Council. Never before had it had so much power. The question--how to use it?

The action began with the dress code. All summer long the Council worked to develop a dress code that would be acceptable to the Board of Education. In August, the dress code was presented to the Board and accepted with minor changes. All year long, though, the code rulings on dress length, boys' hair length, and the provision prohibiting girls from wearing slacks to school were tested. Under the strain, the rulings held strong.

The Council was permitted to choose one of two alternatives for a new lunch period system. Choosing to keep the 4A-4B lunch times and to restrict students to the auditorium meant noon-time activities would have to be developed. After taking a survey of ideas from the student body, the Council initiated mini-classes on sports and certain crafts, movies on short subjects, and open rooms for study.

Other projects included a magazine drive and two sweater-shirt sales. The money from these was used to rejuvenate the homecoming through the addition of a float, to pay for several assemblies, and to sponsor an April dance.

Fun and Teaching Go Hand - In

The Martha Ensign Chapter of the McComb FTA made tremendous strides in its second year. Five members were added to the club. Each of the twenty-one members was paired with a teacher in the level of teaching in which she was interested. The teachers allowed their FTA assistants to prepare material for their classes, to teach their classes, and to perform various other tasks. To show her appreciation, each FTA student drew the name of a teacher to be her "secret" teacher. The student treated her teacher on special occasions to show him that someone was happy that he was teaching at McComb. At the end of the year, each FTA'er revealed who her secret teacher was.

The FTA had some interesting activities outside of school. During the fall, the FTA sold Panther Power buttons so that students could "wear their emotions on their sleeve." At Christmastime, the club donated usable toys to the North Baltimore Fire Department for distribution to those less fortunate than themselves.

MEMENTO STAFF

PANTHER PRESS STAFF

You are now looking at the product of the 1971 MEMENTO staff. The staff wanted to do a yearbook that was unlike any done before. This explains the posterization on the cover, the small splashes of color, the original poem done by Joe Long which serves as the theme, the modular layout, and the supplement containing the 1971 spring activities.

In order to accomplish these changes, the staff worked extra hard and long on the ad drive. They netted only a few more dollars than the previous year, but it was just enough to make these big changes. The staff contended with many stingy people, but these were more than outweighed by the generous merchants.

The staff worked on a tight schedule to meet its final deadline on March 6. Each Monday night was a yearbook work night and two full days of Christmas vacation were given up. The staff must admit, though, that it wasn't all work. Between the running for materials, tearing of paper, sharpening of pencils, and typing of articles could be heard a radio at full blast and screams of surprise over the latest gossip.

The PANTHER PRESS staff worked harder this year than ever before. They renovated the entire paper according to ideas that the editor, Barbara Krebs, discovered at a journalism workshop which she attended in the summer. The page editors were constantly searching for material and many were the times when a space wasn't filled until the day before the deadline. The new journalism class wrote articles and worked on the paper three days a week. At least once a month, though, the entire staff had to stay after school each night for a week to complete the paper.

Each article was packed with information. Mr. Bihn commented in each edition about conditions concerning the school. The sports section was the entire last page. Their "orchids and onions" section captured the goofs which all high schoolers make. There were many good, clear pictures and at least one which was meant to provoke a giggle in each edition.

The paper reflected their efforts. Every three weeks, students asked when the PANTHER PRESS would be distributed. The papers were distributed the last period on the day they arrived. This ruined the last period class of that day because there were very few who didn't bury their noses in the PANTHER PRESS.

¡Nos Divertimos Al Banquete Español!

Tacos won the unanimous favor of everyone at the Spanish Banquet held on April 24, 1970. The banquet took place at Chapa's Restaurant in Hoytville. All Spanish I students were served a Spanish-style meal; from enchiladas to cherry pie. Tasting the foods proved to be the most fun as it won a variety of reactions.

Sombreros and Spanish music set the background for the games played after the supper was over.

At the center of attraction was a huge pinata in shape of a sombrero made by Cheryl White.

The students were tested on their knowledge of the Spanish anatomy when they played Huesos Divertidos (Funny Bones) and Hélo Aquí (Bingo).

Mission Impossible was performed as a skit by José, alias Roger Stein, and Miquel, sometimes known as Mike Marshal.

The banquet was thought by all to have been a great success.

Parlezing Around the Banquet

Highlighting a year of study, students from Mrs. Warnock's French Classes attended the French Banquet. Barbara Finney's home was the setting and March 7, the date. Students decorated the long table and programs in the red, white, and blue of the French Flag. The French cuisine, including onion soup, chicken, chocolate mousee and creme puffs, was made and served by members of the French classes. After stuffing themselves on all this, they played a rollicking game of Bingo – in French no less. The prizes consisted of anything the students didn't want or need anymore. Some of the prizes included a box of Screaming Yellow Zonkers, a baby bottle, a boy's tennis shoe and a left-handed baseball mit. The night ended with a game of charades.

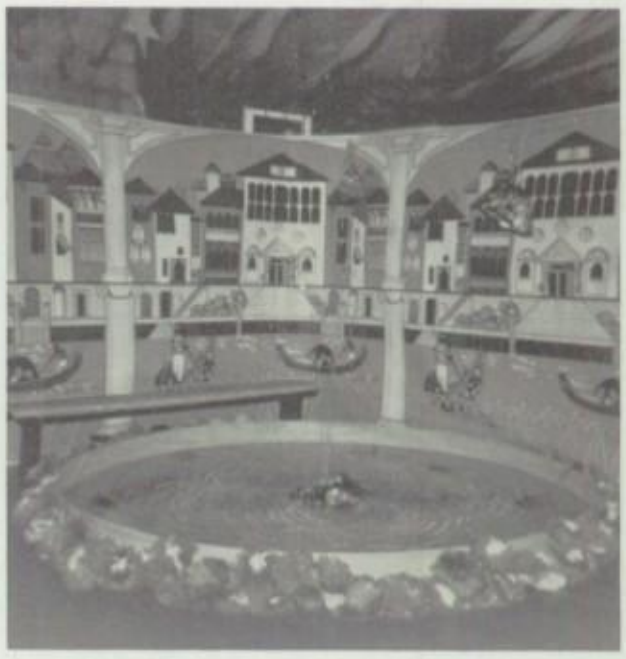
We Danced in 'Venice' for Awhile . . .

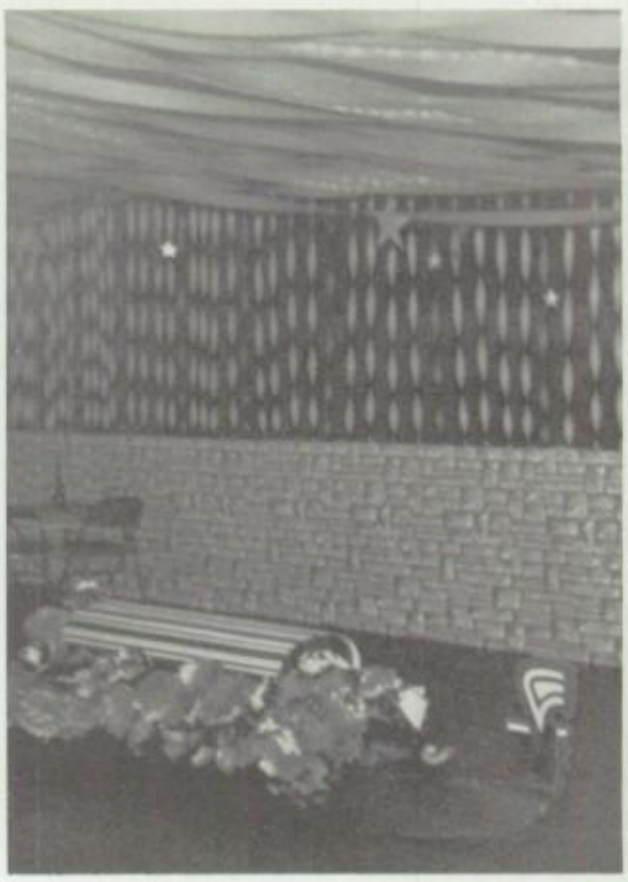
The 1970 Junior-Senior Prom, "Evening in Venice," was the product of hard work. Every Junior sacrificed several study halls and evening activities to dazzle the Seniors with a never-to-be-forgotten prom.

Venice came to life. There were a water fountain, a gondola, a sidewalk cafe, pillars and railings, and romantic music presented by the Elmwood Stage Band. The huge decorative flowers, the quaint topiary trees, and the Venetian candles appealed so much to the crowd that not a one was left at eight o'clock.

To cater the banquet, the juniors selected ten sophomore boys along with their dates: Don Leader and Mary Long, Ned Tate and Deb Rader, Jeff Miller and Sue Spence, Jim Schroll and Linda Stein, Jim Bryan and Carol Borgelt, Milo George and Diane Newell, Kevin Kurtz and Connie Wolford, Scott Salisbury and Teri Shafer, Bill Bechstein and Karron Nigh, Mark Newcomer and LuAnne Ingold.

Everyone headed for the YMCA for the post prom. A live band, "The Brotherlove," beat out tunes as people danced, swam, played basketball, volleyball, and handball, and tried their skill on the trampoline. Pop and pizza were served midway into the post prom. Those who survived until 4:30 a.m. were served breakfast and, most probably, returned home to sleep.





Then Did Our Own Thing at the YMCA

El Taxi Español

El Taxi Español was the theme for the 1971 Spanish Banquet. The dinner was prepared by the Spanish I students and served in the school cafeteria. Spanish II provided the entertainment. The skits they performed were all spoken in Spanish. The most popular skit was "Las Moscas."

Leonado Menendez from Guatemala was the speaker. The Guatemalan strict customs on dating and their ideas on women's lib provided unlimited amusement for the liberal students.

Miss Howell came to the banquet decked out in a green and white maxi skirt and vest ensemble which she bought in Spain. She and the students agree that the evening "era muy divertido."

At 6:30 p.m. on May 1, 1971, the doors of the spaceship were opened and the seniors were welcomed to "An Evening on the Moon." The ceiling of the gym had become a starry night--a night complete with its own space station. A moon crater decorated the dance floor.

Don Leader, junior class president, welcomed everyone to the moon. Bob Martin gave the invocation. The guests were served by 10 moonmaids and 10 astronauts, and they were: Don Smith and Marsha Payne; Denny Rider and Kathy Johnston; Bryan Harden and Jane Long; Ed Shoop and Deb White; Brendyn George and Sue Haley; Ted Dennis and Judy Foltz; Roger Stein and Sue Glaser; John Mull and Rhonda Rader; Bob Snyder and Brenda Finney; and Jeff Shafer and Julie Rettig. Afterwards, music was provided by the Chamber Singers. Solos were sung by Mary Long, Gail Detamore, Amy Crane, and Mr. Belleville.

The dance began at 8:30 p.m. and the Eastwood Stage Band was featured. Following the dance, everyone gathered at the YMCA for various activities. For those who liked to dance music was provided by the "Collection," and for those who love the movies, "Cool Hand Luke" was shown.

As the moon faded from the sky, the prom came to an end. Everyone had drifted home by 7:30 a.m.
